From the Desk of Rabbi Bruce Benson

Here we are in the month of November, a month that once a year brings us to a recognizable moment of giving thanks. We plan on bringing family together, cooking way too much food, presuming leftovers will carry us through the weekend, watch one of our apex parades and revel in sporting events that distract us from the wonders and deep challenges of our world.

While we all are well aware of the substance of the Shehecheyanu prayer thanking God for a multitude of things, a new season, a joyous occasion, the first fruits, the first day of a holiday and more, we probably don't stop to consider the level of thanks due to our God, the random blessings that we enjoy every day in our lives, thankfulness for our families, friends and the majority of circumstances surrounding us in our life journey.

One of the greatest reasons to give thanks is that it requires us, in a real sense, to reflect in the life mirror at all the positive things that happen within our existence.

We have chosen to be members of a Jewish community, one that asks us to be caring, compassionate and, most importantly connected to each other due to a random act of birth. From our first day to our last, we are connected to the Jewish people and have responsibilities to that group.

We can embrace our Jewish life and function as advocates of our religious thread, our secularity by joining B'nai Brith and Hadassah, join in adult education and study classes to learn more about one of the major definers of our lives.

In the Ahavat Olam prayer of Shabbat evening, we thank God and say, "when we lie down and when we rise up, we will meditate on your laws and commandments, we will rejoice in your Torah forever .... they are our life and DOING them lengthens our days".

As we enter this season of rejoicing and offering thanksgiving, reflecting on the good things that have accrued for us, it is for us to take a breath and see how we can DO JEW. Don't just talk about being a Jew - use the VERB form of "to be" - I sense 3 levels of Judaism:

Happy
Thanksgiving

I wish everyone in our Temple family a very Happy Thanksgiving. We have a lot to be thankful for here at TBEI and I am thankful to everyone that has so generously supported our temple.

We depend on our membership to attend our functions and we have many events scheduled for the next few months, including a wonderful ShaBoom concert coming up on November 8th – we need all of you to spread the word and if you haven't already bought your tickets, please buy them now. We have an opportunity to make this a big success.

Our semi-annual Congregation Meeting will be on Wednesday, November 12th at 2 p.m. We need a quorum to conduct this meeting and please note it is open to all members in good standing. We'll be selecting a Nominating Committee which consists of 3 Temple members and 2 alternate Temple members to propose 2 Board of Trustee seats for the next 2 years (beginning July 2026) they are in addition to the Board members that have already volunteered to be on this committee. If you would like to be a part of our Temple Board, please get an application and submit it to the committee. Nominees will be presented at the semi-annual meeting in May.

Please see the flyers in this Shofar for all the upcoming events.

See you at Temple,

Faith

Sitting quietly, talking a good game about Judaism being a good road to be on, or actually DOING Jewing - what can you DO, every day, to add 1 small or larger mitzvah that helps lighten the world for someone less fortunate. In spite of what you might think - you are blessed, your opportunities are everywhere to add to the thankfulness of the universe and the world we live in.

Add blessing and kindness to the world every day between now and our defined day of thanksgiving - and then make it a habit. 1 a day.

Take the time to read the prayers we pray - hear what you say and let them be signposts for your journey to truly being, and showing the deep level of honesty you should share with the world. In that way, you will show thanks and you will feel it and it will raise you up.

Finally, grab a copy of the stories for this month's book club offerings - try something different. Jewish science fiction - (it's nowhere near as strange as you might think).

Stretch your imagining a bit. You'll love it. I promise. Have a reflective thanksgiving holiday and lead up to it.

Rabbi Bruce

GRACE PACKS INC.

PEANUT BUTTER BRIGADE

BRING A JAR OF PEANUT BUTTER
WHEN YOU COME TO THE TEMPLE

The founders of Grace Packs noticed that children were saving food items during the week to take home for weekend nourishment. They found out that over 25,000 students in St. Lucie Public Schools qualified for free or reduced lunch, representing 62.08% of our community's students. Student homelessness is rising in Florida, and St. Lucie County is in the top 10 for the highest rates of students living in shelters, motels or couch surfing while enrolled in school.

Grace Packs is based in Sunlight Community Church, where volunteers prepare food bags to be delivered to each participating school. The school distribution is done in a quiet and dignified manner so that no child is made to feel different or embarrassed. Grace Packs is a 100% volunteer organization and is supported by local donations of food, funding and grants.

THE STAMP CORNER ~ ~ By Ellis Bromberg

Stamp Of the Month: THE 87th ANNIVERSARY OF KRISTALLNACHT

November's featured 10 pfennig multicolored postage stamp comes to us from East Germany. It was issued in 1963, before the two Germanies were reunited, to mark the 25th anniversary of Kristallnacht, "the Night of the Broken Glass," the first nationwide Nazi pogrom, the start of the systematic persecution of Jews in Germany. This month we will mark the 87th anniversary of that heinous event.

On the night of November 9, 1938, mobs went on a rampage throughout Nazi Germany in the severest eruption of violence perpetrated against the Jews of Germany until the onset of the deportations and annihilations during World War II. The riots were to have far-reaching consequences for the status and conditions of German Jews.

The year 1938 was a calamitous one for Germany's Jewish community. It was then that Adolf Hitler's drive for political and territorial aggrandizement reached its peak with the annexation of Austria and the Sudetenland, and the most sweeping anti-Jewish edicts were promulgated in a continuing campaign of discrimination and persecution. Under the Names Decree, every Jew had to assume, in addition to his or her first name, the identifying name of Israel or Sarah. Passports of Jews were stamped with the letter "J" in red, signifying "Jude." Jewish property was expropriated by various laws and regulations, and official recognition of the public standing of the Jewish communities was annulled.

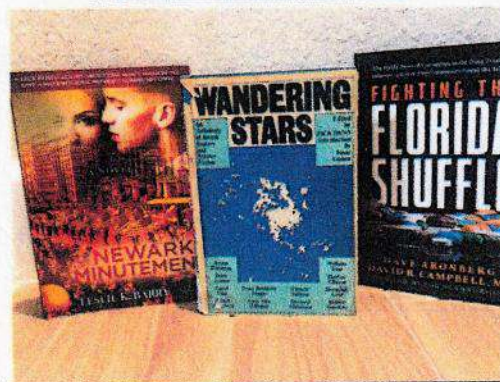

On November 7, a Jewish youth named Herschel Grynszpan, whose parents had been expelled from Germany to Poland, shot and killed an official in the German embassy in Paris. The assassination served as the pretext for Kristallnacht, organized by the Nazi Party and the Storm Troopers with the concurrence and encouragement of the Nazi leadership. The signal to start the operation was given by the Minister of Public Enlightenment and Propaganda, Joseph Goebbels.

During the night, 171 synagogues were set ablaze and many others destroyed; 7,500 shops and businesses of Jews were ransacked and vandalized; 91 Jews were murdered; and some 30,000 were deported to concentration camps. The events of Kristallnacht were a watershed in the history of German Jewry; it marked the Nazis' shift from discrimination through legislation and decrees to brutal street violence, a portent of what lay ahead.

The stamp includes a depiction of a generic synagogue engulfed in flames, and the yellow Jude Star of David patch that Jews in Nazi Germany were required to wear; the Star of David is shown in chains. The stamp also includes the German words Niemals Wieder (Never Again). It's the powerful slogan rooted in a Hebrew phrase for Jewish resilience, and a solemn vow to prevent further genocides and acts of hate. It was famously used by prisoners liberated from the Buchenwald concentration camp near Weimar, Germany, to denounce Nazi fascism.

Our Monthly TBEI Library Book Review.....by Sheilah Korinow

As I am writing this article, we Jews have just experienced an intense period of soul searching during the High Holidays - one of prayer which has affected everyone in one way or another. It has been important to reflect upon our lives, and for many of us, that reflection will hopefully continue beyond the holidays too. We are probably thinking about how we can change our lives for the better. During the year, I often find solace in looking at The Book of Proverbs. It is thought to be thousands of years old, but just as up to date about life in the twenty-first century!

Rabbi Joseph Telushkin, in one of his books, has written that "Jewish tradition considers Solomon, King David's son, the wisest of men . . . the Bible reports that Solomon composed 3,000 proverbs and over 1,000 songs, and that kings from all over the world dispatched messengers to hear him speak. Jewish tradition ascribes to Solomon authorship of three biblical books: the Song of Songs, Proverbs, and Ecclesiastes."

Did you ever take a look at the Book of Proverbs - not just one or two of them, but the whole book? That's what I am going to help you do. I'm introducing you to the book I am reviewing, **Promises of the Proverbs**, compiled by Michael Beck who uses a unique presentation. Instead of listing the proverbs in the order each one appears in the Bible, he places them into certain categories according to the topics they are related to.

For example, we have Anger, Apathy, Hatred, Deceit, and more. There are 97 topics in all! You can pick and choose only those in which you have an interest. Considering how old the proverbs are, it's amazing that people had so many things on their minds similar to what the modern man faces today!

Let's take a look at a few of the proverbs:

"A soft answer turneth away wrath: but grievous words stir up anger." Proverbs 15:1

"A fool uttereth all his mind: but a wise man keepeth it in till afterwards." Proverbs 29:11

"Let another man praise thee, and not thine own mouth; a stranger, and not thine own lips." Proverbs 27:2

"Go from the presence of a foolish man, when thou perceivest not in him the lips of knowledge." Proverbs 14:7

"These six things doth the Lord hate: yea, seven are an abomination unto him: A proud look, a lying tongue, and hands that shed innocent blood, an heart that deviseth wicked imaginations, feet that be swift in running to mischief, a false witness that speaketh lies, and he that soweth discord among brethren." Proverbs 6:16-19

"Boast not thyself of tomorrow; for thou knowest not what a day may bring forth." Proverbs 27:1

"Give instruction to a wise man, and he will be yet wiser: teach a just man, and he will increase in learning." Proverbs 9:9

"The full soul loathes the honeycomb; but to the hungry soul every bitter thing is sweet." Proverbs 27:7

"The lip of truth shall be established for ever: but a lying tongue is but for a moment." Proverbs 12:19

"Every man shall kiss his lips that giveth a right answer." Proverbs 24:26

"Strive not with a man without cause, if he have done thee no harm." Proverbs 3:30

"Wisdom is the principal thing: therefore, get wisdom: and with all thy getting get understanding." Proverbs 4:7

When you look at the **Book of Proverbs** you will notice that there are many "buts" used as words within them. Perhaps set up in this way, they make us think a little harder! What do you think? Looking through this book, I found about 50 I want to share with you, but as you know, I have no room to do so. The ones I chose are few in number, but powerful in meaning

So many topics are covered in the book: Anger, Deceit, Destruction, Evil, False Witness, Friendship, Gossip, Hatred, Honor and Glory, Hope, Humility, Joy and Gladness, Knowledge, Life, Lying, Medling, Neighbors, Peace, the Poor, Pride, Riches and Wealth, Righteousness, Self-Control, Shame, Speech, Trust, Understanding, Wisdom and so many more. As I've said recently, the Proverbs are thousands of years old but are just as meaningful in today's world. What insight existed so long ago, only to be passed onto future generations and used by us now! When reading Proverbs, if you start to think about modern-day problems and individuals, it means The Book of Proverbs is doing its job in getting you to contemplate about our present-day lives.

If you would like to check this book out of the library, please let me know by contacting me at skorinow@gmail.com, or call me at 781-686-2299.

Quarter Auction

We have had many requests to explain a “Quarter Auction” so here is an explanation:

A quarter auction is a fundraising event that combines elements of a raffle, an auction, and a direct sales party. It’s a fun way to raise money for a good cause while enjoying some friendly competition and socializing with others. Here’s how it works:

Arrival: When you arrive at the event, you’ll be given a numbered paddle for a donation. This paddle will have a corresponding numbered chip that will be placed into a drawing basket.

Preview: Before the auction begins, you’ll have the opportunity to browse the items up for “auction.” These items will be on display for about an hour after the doors open, allowing you to decide which ones you’re interested in.

Bidding: Once the auction starts, an announcer or helper will hold up an item and announce whether it’s a “one-quarter” or “two-quarter” bid. If you’re interested in bidding, you’ll put one or two quarters (depending on what was announced) into the bucket for each paddle you wish to bid with. For example, if you have two paddles and want to bid with both of them to increase your chances of winning, and the item is a “one-quarter” bid, you’ll put $0.50 in the bucket and raise your paddles. If you decide to bid with only one paddle, you’ll pay $0.25.

Collection: A worker will walk from table to table with a bucket to collect bids. Once all the quarters have been collected, the bucket is shaken to mix up all the chips.

Winner Selection: The announcer will draw a number from the bucket, and if they draw your number and you had bid on the item, congratulations! You’ve won that item at a great price. If they draw your number and you didn’t bid on the item, simply call out “no bid!” and they’ll continue drawing numbers until they find a winner.

Additional Activities: Quarter auctions may also include various raffles and cash-and-carry items throughout the evening.

Remember to bring quarters with you to the event; however, if you forget or run out, there will be rolls of quarters available for purchase. Enjoy the excitement of bidding on items while supporting a good cause!

YAHRZEIT

Observance is an annual reminder of the date of death of a loved one and a tribute to the influence they made on our lives.

Kaddish for your loved one will be recited during the services on the Shabbat before the Yahrzeit date.

Life Cycle Events

Our sympathy and condolences are extended to:

Ferne Barishman on the recent loss of her brother William Teitelbaum

May the source of peace send peace to all who mourn and comfort to all who are bereaved

For us, there is no greater responsibility than helping to honor and preserve a life's story. We believe every life should be commemorated.
